Deviation from Conditions.

Deviation from Conditions.

The conclusion reached by your office was and is that you should deviate from the clearly expressed conditions of the specifications and all precedents that have been established, and resort to a few isolated cases not mentioned in the specifications or supported by any facts under this bid or any previous bid made by this company, and that in your indigment the items bid for should be segregated so so to allow a competing bidder to inject himself into the proposition, having in view, we believe, in the light of the statements made to us, the sole object of keeping another firm and competitor in the light to the best interests of the District of Columbia. We do not believe that this is justified either by the bid itself or by any of the attending circumstances, or by any previous bids that have been made, either by the party whom you seek to favor or other competitors. Always submitted bids within the ade, either by the party whom you seek to favor or her competitors. This company has always submitted bids within the nits prescribed by Congress, and it is its purpose the future, as it has been in the past, to give e District the best possible service with a legiti-te profit to itself without burdening the Distric-tis taxpayers, and with only one profit and not a stributive one.

An Act of Favoritism. An Act of Propritism.

It is, and has been, our policy to avoid the possible combinations that might be or might have been made with the end in view of raising the price of this work to the District and to content ourselves with what we believe a reasonable contractors profit. In view of these facts, we believe that the award of any part of this work to any other company than the Brennan Construction Company will be an act of expretation or infent or one shadow and which we bid.

Such action on your part would, in our opinion tend to invite combination instead of wholesome competition, and, in view of all of these conditions, which to enter a vigorous protest against such actions.

Col. Biddle's Reasoning. in Paving Contract.

A hearing having been given in the meantime, Commissioner Biddle, on Monday last, April 15, approved the recommendation of Capt. Morrow that the bid be divided. He gave reasons in detail for his action. After citing the proposals and character of the work, he said he was sure that it was thoroughly understood by the bidders that the pavement was to be built "from curb to curb, and that no subdivision of the work would be made along that line." A tabulated schedule was given to each bidder, which showed that about half of the streets were to be paved with a vitrified block gutter, and the other half would be paved without gutter. Continuing, Col. Biddle without gutter. . Continuing, Col. Biddle

In the face of a vigorous protest, em-The lowest bidder on the whole contract was the Brennan Construction Company, and the Cranford Paving Company the next lowest. The difference between the two bids, as canvassed under the terms of the specifications, on the total amount of the work, about $79,000, was but $232. The Brennan Construction Company was 1 cent lower on constructing sheet asphalt pavement and 19 cents higher on laying vitrified block gutters. Dividing the bids into the streets to be paved with vitrified block gutter and without such gutter, the Brennan Construction Company becomes the lowest hidder on the streets without gutter, and this determined the recommendation that the contract be awarded in this manner. The lowest bidder on the whole contract was bodying the charge that it would be "an Protest from Brennan Company.

On April 10 the Brennan Construction Company submitted a statement to the Board of Commissioners, insisting that it was entitled to the full contract, having complied with all conditions. It said, in part:

The board has re-beatedly commended the Brennan Com-beany for the efficient manner, in which it parks throughout the country as performed its work. Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson resterday announced that some prominent nanufacturers of foods and drugs would get into serious trouble with the government if they did not stop telling the peo ple that the government guaranteed the purity of their products. "The serial number and the statement that the food or drug is 'Guaranteed un der the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906,' does not mean that the United States government guarantees the purity of the article, or guarantees that it is what the label says it is," said Secretary Wils "On the contrary," he continued, "the tatement means that the manufacturer of the article guarantees it to be pure, free from adulteration, and that he warrants every fact stated on the label to be rue. It is the guarantee of the manufacturer, not the guarantee of the govern-

It then assigns a number to the guaranty and permits the manufacturer to print the number and the statement that the article is guaranteed on the label of each package.
